The Secretary/David Binder - NYT

RELEASED IN FULL

B: It is going ^{to be} a bad year isn't it?

K: It is looking that way.

B: Have you made up your mind as to whether the Cubans were nudged through Angola or went in with flags flying.

K: I tend to think they went in with the flags flying.

B: Good, that was the first question. The second is there is a rumor flying around that you called Sen. Magnuson and asked him to delay this fisheries thing.

K: No, I didn't call him at all.

B: Didn't you talk to anyone on that?

K: No.

B: I gather that there is some kind of expectation that the thing is going to sit in conference for quite a while.

K: That seems to be what people think.

B: He is having some sort of an Alaskan fish fry in the Senate today.

K: Well, why not?

B: But there wasn't anything attempted by the Administration to tell him to hold off.

S: No. Okay David.

B: Are we going to see you on Saturday? Did you get a look at the book?

K: I have it here but I haven't read it.

B: I would like your views on it sometime.

K: I will see you Saturday.
